Learn@Home

Why Material Design?

- Google-developed visual language particularly suitable for presenting large amounts of textual information
- Gives ability to design and develop a compelling user experience extremely quickly
- Familiar interface elements (from Android phones and other Google software) give users a degree of confidence and speed up acceptance of the application

Event View: A large box displays "August 17, 2022" and "Week 33". To the right is a red "+" button. Below this is a weekly calendar grid for August 2022, with the 17th highlighted in red. The days of the week are labeled M, T, W, T, F, S, S.
Events: Two events are listed:

- Lunch with M: Scheduled from 12:30 - 14:00, with edit and delete icons.
- Mentorship session: Scheduled from 15:00 - 16:00.

A modal window titled "Add a new event" is open, with a close "X" button in the top right corner. The title "Getting busy!" is displayed above the input fields. The modal contains the following fields:

- Description: An empty text input field.
- Student: A dropdown menu showing "0" and an upward arrow.

Below the input fields, a list of names is shown, each preceded by a small profile picture:

- Mary Goodnight
- Jane Moneypenny
- Charles Robinson
- Anatoly Gogol

At the bottom of the modal is another weekly calendar grid for August 2022, with the 17th highlighted in red. The days of the week are labeled M, T, W, T, F, S, S. In the bottom right corner of the modal is a red "Add" button. At the very bottom of the screen, there are links for "About Us", "Terms of Use", and "Privacy Policy", followed by the copyright notice "Copyright 2022 Learn@Home. All rights reserved."
